Peter, I think the Balance QC revamping and the entire balance checking procedure(daily basis by each chemist) is an excellent QI project. Lets get together to discuss today if possible .11:15 am ?.

Hi Chuck,

For a QI project, what do you think about working on the balance QC sheets? We can loosen up the tolerance for just about every balance, reduce the number of weights, and also write a short protocol. Let me know what you think of this project idea.

Thanks,
Peter
